Summary of the meeting

If two words could summarize the meeting it would be “Synergy effects”. The program included both theoretical lectures and practical workshops, we experienced that theory and practice are better together. Trying to use the TIDieR checklist in small groups was fun and frustrating, but gave inspiration to bring home to our clinical practice. We got hot news on the results from the Danish RCT on effects of multidisciplinary rehabilitation. Presentations of vocational rehabilitation (VR) in two European countries taught us about synergy effects of teamwork in VR. We participated in an inspirational neurological music therapy session and learned about the synergy effects of music to our brain. Presentations on resilience, clinical pathways, synergy effects of multidisciplinary rehabilitation, the role of the occupational therapist in multidisciplinary team and the use of Armeo Spring for Arm training completed the scientific program. In addition, we were well taken care of by the local organizers, in beautiful environments both at the venue and in the cozy town of Ringsted. The two-day meeting gave good opportunities to discuss practice, exchange ideas, be inspired and make new friends and colleagues in the RIMS network.
